

Jess Saves The Day

The annual Sacred Harp singing at Beaver Dam Church was attended by a large crowd. A fish fry had been announced for the noon hour and Smith Harper arrived on the scene bright and early Sunday morning and by ten o'clock had everything in readiness to start trying the fish.

Robert Moore had promised chef Harper that he would have the fish on the grounds in plenty of time, but previous time elapsed and no fish. Jess Blocker and some friends arrived on the scene about eleven o'clock and asked if dinner was about ready. When he was told that no fish had arrived Mr. Blocker hunted up Mr. Moore, who had become so interested in singing that he had completely forgotten about the fish.

Mr. Blocker was hungry for fish and did not propose to be denied, so he drove Mr. Moore to Elba after the fish. By this time Chef Harper's frying paraphernalia had become cold, but when the fish arrived, he started all over again and by hurrying things to the limit, had the fish and "hush puppies" ready for a hungry crowd about two hours late.

Good Fishing

Messers Morgan Windham, Lamar Rainier, Tommy Thompson and Charles Lindsey went fishing to Lake Ocheese, below Marianna, Fla., Wednesday and brought back 79 fine bream and 20 trout. Mr. Windham said it was the first time he had ever been there, but it was one of the most successful fishing trips he ever took.

Ben S. Brunson reports three very successful fishing days. He was one of a party that went to Florida Friday and Saturday and again Tuesday. He said they caught the limit each day and the biggest problem was not to exceed the legal limit.

Lucky Break

Mrs. Dock Simmons, widow of Dock Simmons, who died Monday has just received news of a streak of good fortune according to Mr. John Garrett, of Garrett Motor Company.

Mr. Simmons had purchased a 1942 model Willis automobile on time payments from Garrett Motor Company. Only a few payments had been made on the car and it looked as if it would have to be turned back in to the company. Mr. Garrett, however, pointed out a clause in the insurance policy on the car saying that in case of death of the purchaser of the car before it was paid for, the payments would be paid up and the car would go to the beneficiary, so Mrs. Simmons now finds herself the owner of the car, valued at $500, in her time of need.

Attends Christmas Merchandise Show

Foy W. English returned Tuesday night from Atlanta, Ga. where he attended a Western Auto showing of Christmas toys. Mr. English said there were 400 Western Auto Associate Stores represented and the showing of Christmas goods was much larger than last year. He said he was caught short in the Christmas buying rush last year, and is taking no chances this year. He ordered several times as much holiday goods as ordered for last year.

Accompanying Mr. English on the trip were Western Auto Associate Store owners Charles English, Luverne; J. L. English, Milton, Fla.; and Cleo Dorsey, of Opp.

City Starts Work On Resurfacing All Old Paving

All Old City Streets Due For New Surfacing

Mayor L. P. Mullins announces that the old concrete streets are being swept and cleaned preparatory to filling up the holes and cracks, replacing defective sections and sealing with asphalt. The old streets were in bad condition, being full of holes, cracks, etc., and the repair job is badly needed. This work is being rushed so that this blacktop and the new paved streets can be sealed in one operation.

Mayor Mullins says the City Council has made an advantageous deal whereby the City saves about $2,500 in the purchase of paving materials. With this savings it is hoped that Plant Avenue and some of the streets west of the railroad can be paved as a part of the present paving project.

Crippled Children Clinic Held In New Brockton

Observation For 150 Patients Expected Friday, June 3rd

The annual Crippled Children's clinic will be held at the Elementary School, New Brockton, Ala., on Friday, June 3rd. Dr. Hannon, orthopedic Surgeon of Mobile will be present during the day to observe and treat the Crippled Children of Coffee County coming under this program. It is expected that 150 children will receive observation during the day. Plans have been made with various religious and civic organizations of the County to furnish food and all workers and patients attending the clinic.

Those who attend the Crippled Children Clinic at New Brockton last year will bear testimony of the great work done for our unfortunate children at these clinics. To see a child occasionally who is deformed is pathetic, but to see 150 or more such children of our own County together is shocking.

Work at the clinic will begin in the early morning and will continue until all patients are seen. The treatment of these children is made possible by our annual contribution to the Coffee County Crippled Children Society and is, therefore, a public institution in which we are all interested.

It is urged that every person who can, go by the New Brockton school on Friday of this week so that you may see and realize just how your money is being spent and the good it is doing. The Crippled Children Society is interested in helping every crippled child whose parents are not financially able to pay for the necessary hospitalization and treatment, and any person knowing of such child is invited an encouraged to report that fact to the Health Department, or to Kermit G. Crook, the County Chairman of the Crippled Childrens Society.

Dog Survives Seven Days Imprisonment

Mrs. Billy Oggs advertised in the last issue of the Clipper for her missing blond Cocker Spaniel pet, "Bunny" who disappeared the previous Thursday. A week later when Miss Eunora Farris opened the door to her book room in the courthouse she discovered Bunny, nearly exhausted and weak for want of food and water.

Miss Farris said the dog must have followed her into the room and was locked up, being confined in the room for a week, until she made her weekly visit to the room. She said papers, books and other articles were strewn about the room in a way that indicated that Bunny had made a heroic effort to escape, but to no avail. Not even a Clipper classified ad could help him out of this predicament.

When he was released he was taken to the flowing well where he lapped water for nearly thirty minutes, as though he could not get enough. A week's good care has restored Bunny to normal and he seems to be none the worse for his trying ordeal.

Two Convicts Gain Few Hours Of Freedom Here

Elba Redbirds Vacate Cellar Position By Winning Last 2 Games

Take Victories From Brantley And Luverne

The rejuvenated Elba Redbirds have come to life and shaken off their losing habits. By winning their last two games they have climbed out of the cellar position which honors they shared with New Brockton last week.

With only four regulars in the lineup, a bunch of high school rookies have shown the oldtimers how to hustle and how to win. A feature of the two victories has been the mound work of Billy Morrow who pitched stellar ball. The infield play of Collier and Boswell in Sundays game was worthy of special notice. The whole team hustled and showed the kind of spirit that pleases the local fans immensely.

For the first time in many games, first baseman Foy English was absent, but Leon Davis performed creditably in his stead. He handled several wild pegs neatly. With the brand of ball the Red Birds have displayed in their last two outings it seems certain that they have said goodbye to the cellar position for good.

Ground Broke For New Baptist Church Monday

Work Gets Underway On New Church Building

Monday morning, May 30 marked the beginning of the realization of a vision that has been held by the members of the First Baptist church for many months. A ground breaking ceremony was held at the site of the new church building at nine o'clock on this date.

Rev. O. M. Fox, pastor, conducted the service. He stated that Judge J. A. Canley and Mr. W. O. Vaughn are the only two living members of the building committee for the old church which is sacred to the memory of many, and now lies in ruins on the ground. Both Judge Canley and Mr. Vaughn were unable to attend the service because of illness. Mr. J. H. Brown, the first cash contributor for the new building was also unable to attend.

Rev. Fred L. Davis, pastor of the Methodist Church, read the following Scriptures: Chronicles, 28th chapter, 10th verse; Isaiah, 28th chapter, 16th verse; Psalms, 127 chapter, 1st verse; First Corinthians, third chapter, 9-16 verses. Rev. E. L. Stroder, Coffee County Baptist missionary offered a prayer.

Major Doctor Bryan, chairman of the building committee and Mr. Horace Fuller, Chmn. Board of Deacons, shovelled the first scoops of dirt while cameras clicked from several directions. A group of loyal supporters looked on with grateful hearts and great anticipation that a new church building may mean greater glory for the Divine purpose.

Caught After Escape From Work On Fish Pond

Bob Folsom was superintending construction of the fish pond northwest of Elba Monday afternoon when a rainstorm came up and the 15 convicts working on the pond were herded into a building for shelter.

After the rain had ceased the prisoners were called back to work, and it was found that two were missing. They had slipped out the back way to freedom. The sheriff's office was notified and Deputy Sheriff D. B. Addison and dog trainer Morris Frazier hurried to the scene and put Sheriff Tillman's blood hounds on the trail.

The three dogs took up the scent and Addison and Frazier had a strenuous afternoon wading through swamps, climbing hills, jumping ditches, etc., trying to keep within hearing distance of the baying dogs. Deputy Addison said he may have trailed the shotguns, so it was of no use to them and they hid it before they were caught.

Later in the evening the dogs almost overtook the convicts on the Dan Bryan farm near Pine Level. They took refuge in a tree out in a field and when dogmaster Frazier arrived on the scene the escapes begged him to call off the dogs, promising to run no more.

The Negroes were returned to camp and will be charged with breaking and entering. They will probably accumulate more time. It is reported that work on the fish pond is progressing satisfactorily.

In the entrance hall were artistic arrangements of regal lilies, white gladi and Queen Ann's Lace.

The living room and dining room were thrown en suite and were beautifully decorated with white gladi, lilies and snap dragons in standard baskets.

The table decoration was appropriately suggestive of the "wardward movement" and the gold rush of 1849. The hostess, in her pleasing manner, explained that she and Mr. Dixon were just one hundred years late, but would leave soon on their trek to the far West. Miniature covered wagons and men and women carrying packs on their backs were placed at intervals down the center of the table. Low bowls of yellow lilies were the flower decorations for the table. The dainty white napkins were stamped 49 in gold letters.

States Open Courses to Aid Old-Age Group

WASHINGTON — Thousands of old folks are going to get more cash from the public purse. Old age assistance funds or payments have been increased in 11 states so far in the 1949 legislative season. Thirteen other states are studying proposals to give more money to needy citizens who are 65 or older.

Cash help for the old folks runs into millions. Before the 1948 legislative session began, about 2,000,000 men and women were getting such aid. The average payment for the United States as a whole was $41.50. The monthly total topped 100 million dollars.

The funds go to needy people fit or over-older than those who are not covered by the federal old age and survivors insurance system.

Federal and state governments both contribute money to the old age assistance programs. The federal government shares in payments up to $30 a month.

In the current legislative session, North Dakota increased the minimum payments from $40 to $60 a month in cases where there is only one recipient in a family, and from $30 to $40 when there are more.

The minimum was set at $30 in New Mexico. In Maine, maximum benefits were increased from $40 to $60 a month. Montana raised the ceiling from $50 to $55. Montana provided for a hike of $7 in monthly grants that had averaged $45.

The Illinois legislature decided to boost the ceiling from $50 to $65 a month with the provision that the amount be adjusted up or down as the cost of living rose or fell in the future.

Higher appropriations also were voted in North Carolina, Idaho, Arkansas, West Virginia and South Dakota.

But the traffic wasn't all one way in the 14 capitals where decisions already have been made. Indiana, Utah and Wyoming made no changes.

California Highest

None of the measures adopted thus far this year has hit the highest raised in California. The voters there last fall approved a proposition to increase benefits for senior citizens from $60 to $75 a month. To meet the added costs, for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30 and for the next fiscal year, the governor has asked an extra $118,250,000.

Proposals now being considered in 13 states vary quite a bit. But in half of them appropriations would be increased without raising the limits on benefits.

Among the many bills in Massachusetts are some seeking a $75 minimum.

A move to remove the $50 ceiling and base payments on actual need. Minnesota's governor favors removal of limits.

Proposals to increase the maximums from $50 to $60 a month have been made in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Pilots Cheat Coyotes

Out of Antelope Meat

CRAIG, COLO. — Two civil air patrol pilots cheated a pair of coyotes out of an antelope dinner near here recently.

The fliers, Jay Brinker and P. Jones, were making a routine flight north of Craig. Brinker noticed two coyotes pussyfooting around a buck antelope which seemed to have his hind foot lifted high off the ground.

Brinker and Jones buzzed the area a couple of times and discovered the antelope's foot was caught between two strands of barbed wire.

The fliers returned to Craig and told game warden Bill Roland what they'd seen.

Then the three of them bundled into Roland's car and drove to within three miles of the antelope. They traveled the rest of the way on snowshoes, rescued the antelope by cutting the barbed wire. Taking it back to Craig, they nursed it overnight and the next day the animal seemed in good shape. The animal was freed near a huge herd of antelope.

Churchill 'Siren Suit'

Burns Stylized Sneer

LONDON. — Winston Churchill's famous "siren suit" brought a sneer from London's style arbiters.

Garbed in a "sort of something" closely resembling a pair of baggy summer flying overalls zipped up the front, loosely belted and with a floppy open collar, Churchill presided in America that it would be the dress of the future.

The magazine Tailor and Cutter, which has been setting men's fashions since Victorian times, said the wartime prime minister was "off the mark there."

The siren suit lacks artistic appearance, said the magazine, "structurally it is wrong; it makes for untidiness."

Miss Nina English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James English will be graduated from Alabama College, Montevallo, on June 6th. She has majored in speech and during her senior year she served as editor of Montevallo, the College annual.

Miss English has accepted a position as speech teacher on the Sylacauga High School faculty for 1949-50.

Mrs. Thomason, of West Palm Beach, Fla. has been visiting in the home of her son, Tommie Thomason.

Mrs. B. H. Mitchell, who has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Roberta Childs, for the past several months, went to Birmingham Friday for an indefinite stay with relatives.

Miss Gladys Clark, Mrs. Sam Sawyer and Lela Ann spent Friday and Saturday in Birmingham. Miss Clark attended a state convention for Circuit Clerks.

People, Spots In The News

Somewhat Crowded

A man in Atlanta took four friends to visit a farm he owned. The visitors entered the tenant farmer's house and were a little embarrassed when they discovered he had only two chairs. They stood around awkwardly and finally the owner said, "I don't believe you have enough chairs here."

The old farmer took a dip of snuff, muttered, "I got plenty of chairs—just too darn much company."

Clean Language

NO TROUBLE AT ALL

Father: "With face powder, fancy dresses and pretty smiles, my son."

It was the first day of school and the teacher was going from desk to desk, making the acquaintance of her new class. Stopping in front of the desk of little Mabel, the daughter of a trailer manufacturer, she inquired, "What is your father's name?"

"Daddy," replied Mabel.

"Yes, I know that," said the teacher, "but what does your mother call him?"

"She doesn't call him anything," was the girl's sharp reply. "She likes him."

KNEW WHAT SHE WANTED

Two career girls were exchanging confidences just before Christmas. One said to the other, "Sis, would a long stocking hold all you want for Christmas?"

"No," said the other, "but a pair of socks would."

Behold The Man!

Lesson for June 2, 1949

LAST JANUARY a man in Holland wrote to the high court of the new nation of Israel, petitioning for a review, now nearly 2,000 years after the trial of Jesus.

The trial of Jesus by the Sanhedrin, the supreme court of the Jews at that time, it was a learned tribunal, and the trial was a fair one.

But history has reviewed it, and it is now a part of the world's heritage.

Jesus was tried by at least four tribunals on the early morning of the first Good Friday. But the verdict of history is that the courts were guilty, one and all, while the prisoner was innocent.

Sentence first,
Verdict afterwards

BESIDES the informal hearing before the ex-high priest Annas, there was the formal trial before the Sanhedrin. He presided over the Sanhedrin, the supreme court of the Jews at that time. It was a learned tribunal, and the trial was a fair one.

But history has reviewed it, and it is now a part of the world's heritage.

Jesus was tried by at least four tribunals on the early morning of the first Good Friday. But the verdict of history is that the courts were guilty, one and all, while the prisoner was innocent.

You might as well expect a pack of wolves, started in mid-winter, to be dignified and honorable with a sheep in their circle. These men, and their intimate friends, had been described by the prisoner, not long before, as men who were "as clean as the driven snow."

It had been any hope that they might change. Jesus would not have used such words. So they had made up their minds: He must die. Now was their hour, while the city slept. Leader of the pack was this Caiaphas. As the face of a trial went on and the high priest by grace of Rome faced Jesus, High Priest by the face of God, what did he see in Jesus' eyes?

That Fox
CAIAPHAS was a wolf. Herod was a fox. It was Jesus' nick-name for him. On that April morning this fox had the surprise of his lifetime. Before he could collect his wits, he was facing the very man whom his private police force had been vainly trying to arrest—Jesus of Nazareth. Two kings faced each other in Herod's hall that morning. The one wearing a robe and crown, seated on some kind of throne, was one of the most unkingly men who ever bore the royal title. The other, in plainest citizen's clothes, and no crown, no throne to be seen, was the one real king who had lived among men.

"Suffered Under Pontius Pilate," procurator of Judea, deputy plenipotentiary of his Imperial Majesty, sat on his judgment seat and looked at Jesus. Six times he had looked at him; six times he had made certain that this young prisoner was an innocent man, and six times he had said so, even in the face of the mob.

The noise in the street confused him. He could not hear, down through the centuries, the voices of millions of men, women and children, rising up week after week and repeating the words, almost like a curse: "and in Jesus Christ, suffered under Pontius Pilate." The voices in the street drowned the voices of the centuries.

But if, as Pontius Pilate turned Jesus over to the will of those who hated him, he had dared to look into Jesus' eyes, and what would he have seen?

To this very day, and to the end of time, in all places and among all men, this Christ whom the world holds in chains is yet the Judge of every man. Men may say of Jesus what they wish, and he will be silent still. But in his eyes is the verdict. A man is judged by his own judgment of Jesus Christ. And you, too, facing you, he looks straight through you. What do you see in Jesus' eyes?

Old Fluorescent Tubes Create Health Hazards

NEW YORK—Industrial representatives have joined with New York city officials in issuing a warning concerning disposal of burned-out fluorescent lamps.

At a conference called by the department of health and sanitation, it was said that broken fluorescent tubes may create health hazards.

The tubes of which 200 million are said to be in use throughout the nation are reported coated on the inside with a phosphor which usually contains beryllium, a toxic substance.

It was said that skin cuts from broken tubes might cause a condition known as granuloma, a benign skin tumor. There also is a danger in inhaling dust from broken tubes.

The conference, including representatives of firms which manufacture the tubes, unanimously adopted this list of precautions for disposing of burned-out tubes:

1. Keep discarded tubes away from children.
2. Never break tubes or place tubes in incinerator or open containers in the street.
3. Deliver tubes directly to refuse trucks.
4. Should a tube be broken, sweep up fragments and wrap them in heavy paper. Never handle broken fragments without gloves.
5. If cut by a broken tube, consult a doctor at once.

Snake Stops Cops
Policemen Alex Strickland told the following unusual story, the truth of which is vouched for by reliable witnesses: He said he, Chief J. W. Parker, Roy King and "Pop" Crosby were riding along in the city police car Wednesday afternoon on the road connecting the Troy and Brantley highways when they ran over a large snake, but did not kill it.

According to Mr. Strickland, the snake, a copper belted moccasin, crawled up into the motor and got wound up in it such a way that it stopped the motor. He said that it took them about 30 minutes to extract the snake from the motor.

More Dog Tales
Kline Bentley and his son, Kline, Jr., recently left before daylight on a fishing trip to Fla. When they reached Danley's Cross Roads they saw a dog mauling in the road in front of the Grimes Store. Upon investigation they found it to be a black hound and a large possum. The dog was sitting on his haunches and thumping his tail on the pavement and the possum was acting in a playful manner. The animals seemed to be enjoying each other's company.

This story gave rise to Tobe Rhodes telling about a dog he used to have. He said it was the best all-purpose dog he ever saw. Seems that he knew just what his master was going to do and would help out in every way possible. He was a wonderful setter, pointer, retriever, and squirrel, coon, and 'possum hunter.

Tobe said he capped the climax one day when he started to go fishing. He missed the dog and found him out behind the barn digging wall.

Prowler Escapes Before Police Arrive
Mrs. Horton H. Flick, whose husband was in Enterprise hospital for a physical check-up, was alone with her two children Wednesday night at her home on Plant Avenue in West Elba. About 11:30 she heard a noise at a window but paid no attention to it until the noise was repeated and she got up and looked out the window. Then she saw a man standing in the shrubbery near the window.

Mrs. Flick hurried next door to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Perdue, but could not arouse any one. She then went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McDowell and awakened Mrs. Mary Newton who called the police. Night watchman C. O. Hicks notified Sheriff H. D. Tillman, who got his blood hounds and with Mr. Hicks hurried to the Flick home. The dogs, however, were unable to pick up a scent.

Mrs. Flick said that when she heard the noise she went to the front walk going east. Mrs. Newton said that just about the time she arrived at the Flick home she heard a car pick-up truck crank up and leave from in front of the home of Mrs. Kate Bryson.
